Your Career and University

I know what I want to do.
Why should I go to university?

Going to university is just wasting time I could be working!

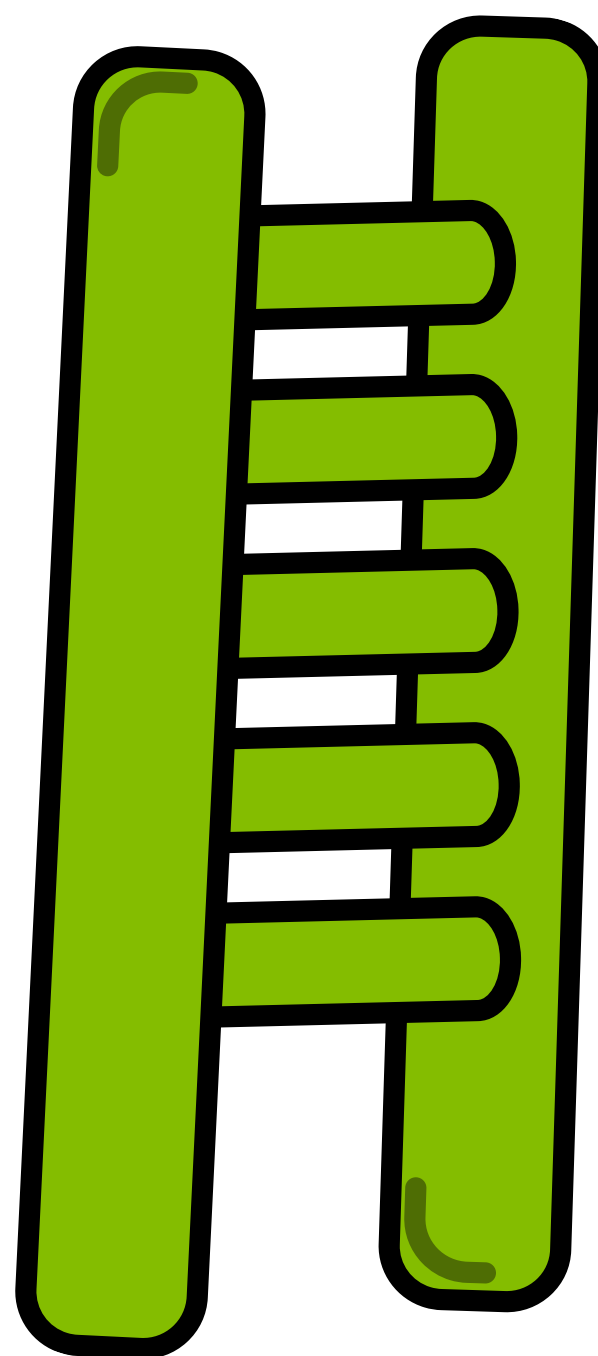

Your Career and University

Some of you may know what job you want to do. This may lead you to think that gaining a higher education is pointless, and will just delay you in entering the workforce.

But for some career pathways, gaining a higher education qualification can actually fast track you up the careers ladder.

This means you can reach a position of seniority faster.

Enhancing Your Career

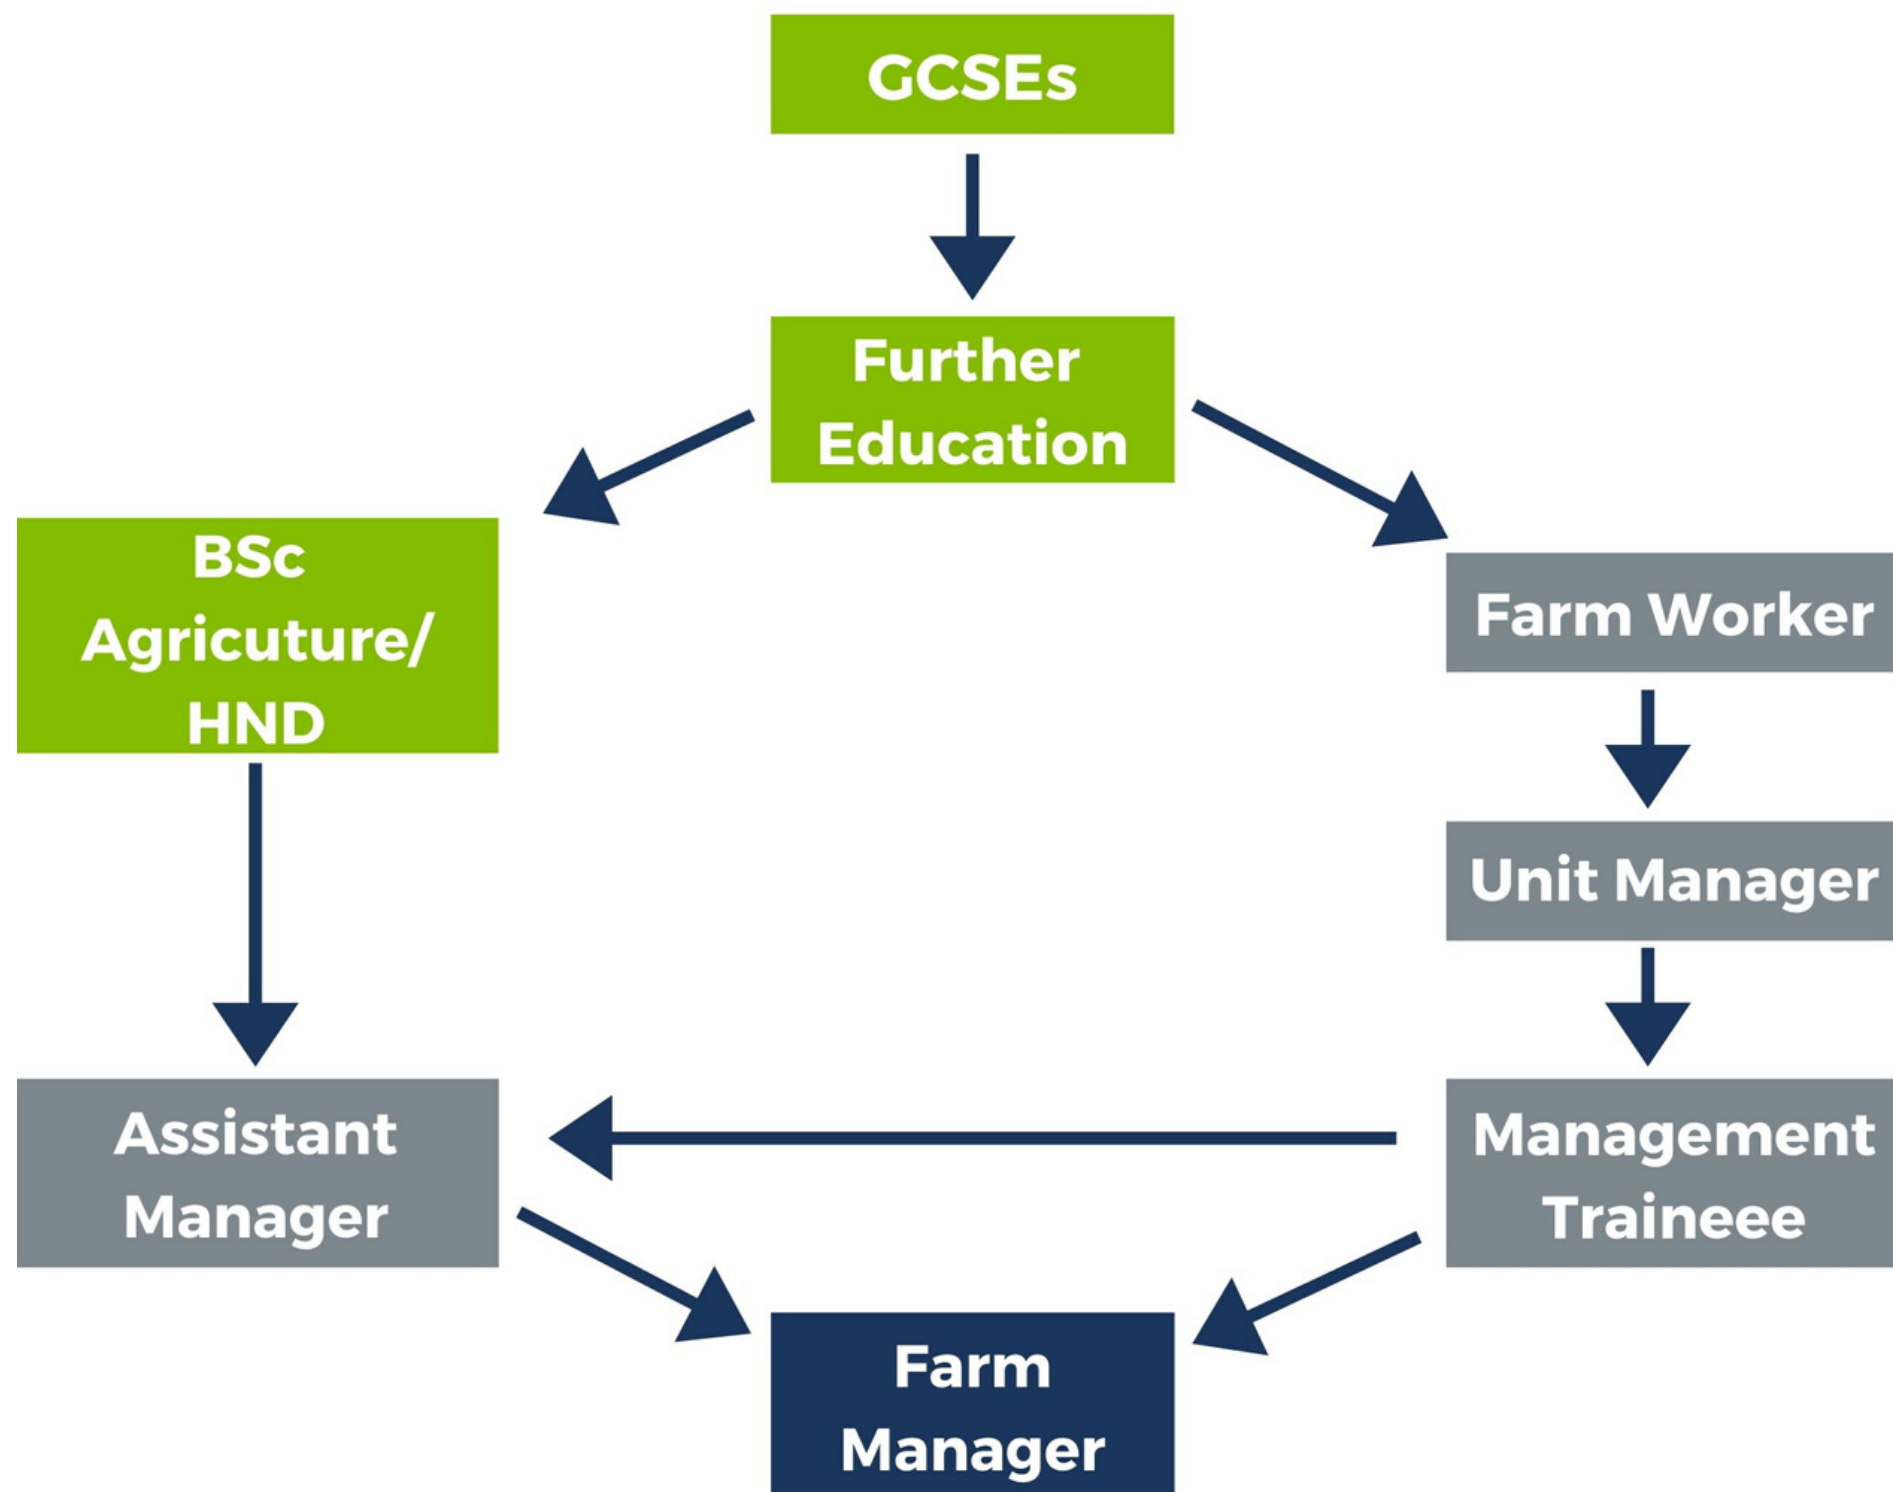

This table shows the levels of education you reach with each qualification.

The majority of students will leave sixth form or college with a Level 3 qualification.

If you choose to go onto higher education; whether this is a degree, a HND or degree apprenticeship you will leave education at a higher educational level. This opens you up to higher level jobs.

LEVEL
HIGHER EDUCATION	8	Doctorate PhD
	7	Master's Degree MA, MSc		Degree Apprenticeships
	6	Undergraduate Degree BA, BSc	Foundation Degree FdA, FdSc	Higher Apprenticeships
	5			Higher National Diploma HND
4			Higher National Certificate HNC
FE	3	A-Levels	BTECS Nationals	International Baccalaureate IB	Advanced Apprenticeships
SCHOOL	2	GCSE Grades A-C	BTECS Firsts	Intermediate Apprenticeships
	1	GCSE Grades D-G

Enhancing Your Career

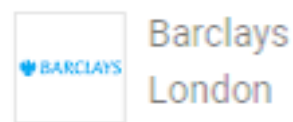

A student who gains a BTEC Level 3 Agriculture qualification can go straight into employment on a farm as a farm worker. Over the years, as they get more experience they will be able to be promoted/move to other farms in higher positions until they reach management level.

Other students however, will choose to do a degree in Agriculture and apply for management graduate schemes. They have the opportunity to reach more senior positions quicker, leading to a higher wage and more responsibilities.
